

Keene High School - Visual and Performing Arts Department

2018 New Hampshire Scholastic Art Awards

The Keene High School Visual Arts Department is pleased to announce the New Hampshire Scholastic Art Awards recipients for the 2018 school year. The Visual Arts Department continues to have strong participation in this competition and is proud of our students' regional achievements. The Scholastic Art and Writing Awards were established in 1923 by Maurice Robinson, founder of Scholastic Inc., and is the largest and longest-running recognition program for young artists in the United States.

This year's adjudication process took place on January 7th and 8th at Pinkerton Academy in Derry, NH. Retired art teachers, college art professors, and professional artists from all over New England performed the judging tasks. All recognized artwork will be on display at Pinkerton Academy in the Stockbridge Theatre. (See Schedule Below)

Keene High School submitted a wide range of artworks with varying mediums from grades 9-12. From that body of artwork sixty individual artworks and seven senior art portfolios were recognized with gold keys, silver keys, and honorable mention certificates. Senior Jacqueline Perry received two of the prestigious American Vision awards and a Best of Show award. Selected Gold Key awards and the American Vision award artworks will continue on to represent the state of New Hampshire at the National Scholastic Art Awards competition in New York City. The national adjudication occurs in March, and the results will be announced some time in April.

The following is a listing of the Keene High School students who are being recognized for their creativity, technical skills, and artistic vision in the visual arts through the NH Scholastic Art Awards.
